

Yellow Gold Radiant Cut Diamond Ring with Marquise and Round Side Stones and Four Prong Setting: One of a Kind, Ready to Ship

The Yellow Gold Radiant Cut Diamond Ring with Marquise and Round Side Stones and Four Prong Setting combines three distinct diamond shapes into a single, harmonious design - a radiant cut center stone flanked by both marquise and round side stones, all secured in a four-prong setting.

Why Mixed Shapes Feel So Custom

Most engagement rings repeat a single side-stone shape throughout the design. This one doesn't. By pairing marquise and round side stones around a radiant cut center, the Yellow Gold Radiant Cut Diamond Ring with Marquise and Round Side Stones and Four Prong Setting achieves a layered, bespoke look - the kind typically reserved for made-to-order custom pieces - at standard production pricing.

The Visual Logic Behind the Design

Marquise stones elongate and draw the eye outward, while round stones fill in and soften the transitions between shapes. Together, they create a sense of movement and dimension that a single repeated shape simply can't achieve, framing the radiant cut center stone from multiple visual angles at once.

A Ring for the Detail-Oriented

If you're someone who notices design details other people miss - the stitching on a jacket, the grain of a wood table - this ring rewards that same attention. Every angle reveals something slightly different: a marquise point here, a round facet there, all converging on the radiant cut's signature brilliance at the center.

Four Prongs, Maximum Light

The four-prong setting on the center stone maximizes light entry and exit, letting the radiant cut's brick-pattern facets perform at their brightest, while individual prongs on each side stone keep every element of this multi-shape design secure through years of daily wear.

Yellow Gold's Warm Complement

Yellow gold brings warmth to a design that could otherwise feel busy, tying the mixed shapes together into a single cohesive statement rather than a scattered collection of stones.

Certified and Handcrafted

Every center diamond, lab-grown or natural, is independently certified by IGI, GIA, or HRD, and the ring is hand-assembled in our NYC atelier at 579 5th Avenue - where craftsmen fit each side stone individually to ensure symmetry and balance.

Protection Built In

A lifetime warranty, complimentary appraisal, and free insurance quote come standard, because a design this detailed deserves long-term care.

Want a ring that looks custom-made without the custom-made wait? Shop the Radiant Cut Diamond Ring with Marquise and Round Side Stones at Renaissance Jewel, with free shipping and 30-day returns.